RMD NETWORKS LAUNCHES ENHANCED VERSION OF ITS WWW.REACHMYDOCTOR.COM ONLINE HEALTH PORTAL, ADDING PERSONAL HEALTH RECORDS (PHR) TO THE OFFERING

– New Multi-Provider Capability Makes It Easier Than Ever for Patients, Physicians and Other
Providers to Become Members

DENVER, CO – June 15, 2006 – RMD Networks, Inc. today launched an enhanced version of its successful www.reachmydoctor.com online healthcare service, which connects patients and their physicians over a secure, web-based portal. Included in the latest release is Personal Health Record (PHR) functionality, which enables patients to create their own profile, forming the basis of a domain in which the patient can setup electronic relationships with one or more care providers for themselves and their family. Through connections to multiple care providers, the patient may share their Personal Health Record and submit health logs such as diabetes logs and chronic heart failure logs to coordinate and more tightly manage chronic illnesses.

Nearly 75% of households have Internet access at home, and nearly 90% of those online would like to be able to communicate with their physicians through a secure network application (Harris Interactive Poll, April 2002). Research indicates having an ability to interact with their physicians' offices online would influence their choice of physicians.

Designed to facilitate online access and exchange of patient information, improving care while reducing time and costs, the new www.reachmydoctor.com service enables patients to:

- Establish their own PHR
- Request appointments
- Request medication refills
- Receive lab results and other documents to patients electronically
- Request referrals
- Ask billing and insurance questions
- Receive online consultations

Patient participants pay $8.95 per month per care provider for this service, which is provided to physicians' practices at no cost, making it as easy and cost-efficient as possible for physicians to meet the online needs of their patients. In fact, as a ReachMyDoctor participating care provider, the individual receives $6.95 of the patient subscription fee to reimburse for their professional time and opinion.

Signing up for membership takes just minutes, and new members can check immediately to see if their physicians' offices already participate.

"We're excited to offer this even more robust service to our customers, both patients and physicians and their staff," said Steve Adams, President and founder of RMD Networks, the parent company of www.reachmydoctor.com. "The application is secure, easy to use and available 24 hours a day. Through this service, we're enabling better access, better care and better health – simply a better way for the interactions between physicians and their patients to take place."

Future enhancements will include patient self-monitoring tools, connectivity to home devices and reminders and notifications to support treatment and medication plans for chronically ill patients.

About RMD Networks

RMD Networks provides secure, online communications solutions that connect patients, physicians, specialists, care providers, payers and pharmaceutical companies together, improving care and outcomes - while reducing complexity and cost. The company creates and manages physician and patient communities through its Collaborative Care Network and ReachMyDoctor services. These web-based services are used to deploy specific healthcare connectivity solutions, including chronic illness management programs. These innovative solutions enable physicians and patients to break out of current fragmented, chaotic communications processes and allow payers and pharmaceutical manufacturers to improve treatment and medication adherence.
